

FREE EDUCATIONAL PRODUCTS

Creatively Written and Illustrated

Focus on Sight Word Books

<http://carolbrunk.wix.com/sightwordsataglance>

Easy to Use by Parents, Grandparents, Sitters, Nannies and Au Pars!

Preschool, Daycare, English as a Second Language and Disability Educators for use as interactive educational materials for their students.

Features:

- Sight Word Books that use recognizable words at a glance illustrated in pen and ink that can also be used as coloring books.
- Products promote interaction between instructor and child/student are easy to follow
- Promote development of eye-hand coordination on motor function as well as cognitive thought process.
- Books average 8 to 10 half pages -2 half pages on a page make a full size 8 ½' x 11 book – downloadable from pdf files off <http://carolbrunk.wix.com/sightwordsataglance>

Current Products AND Products in development:

- “We” books provide a real recipe to follow – very basic instructions with full graphic illustrations. The idea is that “We” cook together! “We” books in development include “We Make Apple Pie!” Presently featuring “We make salad together from the backyard- The Dandelion plant!” with review sheets attached.
- “Who” books help explain things that people do. “Who” books in development presently features “Who Plants the Flowers?” with review sheets attached.
- “How” books explain “How” to do something, “How” something works, or “How” something is made. “How” books in development include a book on identifying harmful plants in nature, like poison ivy and poison oak. Also, a fun book on the process of peanut butter production, featuring Mr. Squirellie.
- “What” books are Science and Math-Interactive books that include scientific explanation includes lesson plan. Math that include counting and basic number skill worksheets. Presently featuring “What Am I?” “What Insect Am I?” talks about metamorphosis and includes lesson plan and worksheet.

Additional FREE products available on website: children’s healthy imagination stories that are illustrated in color features Mr. Alabaster Crane, Mister Gold Fish and Mr. Wood Pecker goes to Grandma Alabaster Crane’s home and My Oregon Giant as well as hand illustrated pen and ink standalone coloring pages. Also, featured wholesome short stories that includes 32850 Old and wholesome poetry, plus downloadable hand illustrated Christmas cards.

To inquire, contact Carol Brunk at: 224-239-9877